THE MOUNTAIN:

There is a reason why they call Big Sky the 'biggest skiing in America'. With a colossal 5,800 acres of terrain on 4 connected mountains, Big Sky has an average of 2 acres of terrain per skier. This translates into virtually no lift lines and ample terrain to meet every skier's demand. The terrain is 15% Beginner, 25% Intermediate, 42% Advanced and 18% Expert. Big Sky has a massive 4,350 feet vertical, topped by the spectacular, tram-serviced, Lone Peak. It also enjoys reliable annual snowfall averaging 400 inches, and our trip is schedule for peak season.

LODGING:

Located in the heart of the Mountain Village, the Huntley Lodge is located just steps from the Explorer lift, just outside its back door. On site amenities include and outdoor pool and hot tub, spa, sauna, fitness center, internet, guest laundry and restaurant.
